5. Chairmans Report

As you are all aware we have had problems with the emails as Vision ICT. We could not access our emails for 4 days. Apparently, Vision ICT were changing over to a different email provider which caused this mayhem.

I watched an online training session from DALC regarding the Community Hubs and yesterday, I attended a Resilience Day Spring Forum at Christow. I had completed the online questionnaire and so I was able to receive the Community Hub box which contains badges, a first aid book and a poster.

The Community Hub has nothing to do with Emergency planning; it is a central point for people to go to for information e.g. a major power cut. The first people to arrive can get an update from the National Grid. The Community Hub is not a place for shelter it's a place where everyone knows where to get information. However, if people do need shelter, then the hall would be an ideal place for people to get a hot cup of tea and be somewhere warm.

19.06 Cllr A Dart arrived

On my behalf, Cllr Wright asked permission for us to use the Hall for this purpose at the Hall meeting last Tuesday and it was agreed.

This morning, I received a letter from Sir Geoffrey Cox giving an update after the Connectivity Forum held in Holsworthy in January. He is continuing to press the relevant organisations regarding broadband provision across the constituency. He has also raised concerns regarding the analogue to digital switchover which is taking place in many areas.

I noted that yesterday and today, Bradworthy was awash with Airband vans. I also spoke to Devon County Council about Road Wardens. They seemed genuinely surprised that we all think it's about pot holes. Apparently, its about keeping roads clear from weeds, cleaning signs, managing verges for wildlife. Potholes is only a small part of it. We also discussed Snow wardens. That is an on-line video training course and once the training is completed we are entitled to 5tonnes of salt free of charge.

Anyway, they will send me posters which I will use for the Emergency Plan table.

7. District Councillors Report

Cllr A Dart reported she has taken on the Chair for Hartland PC

Hartland PC have looked into the Road Warden Scheme – it is a difficult one re storage of materials and you need your own Insurance

Report from S Harding read out – TDC estate manager reported Internal scrutiny meeting the goundworks now being done inhouse and going well, the glass house in the park using it to grow plants and enabled them to employ 2 more staff and an apprentice. Attended meeting with biosphere they will be testing in rivers and streams and will recruit champions to do the testing so data can be recorded on pollution.

Attended briefing on local Gov reorganisation 451 proposal has been submitted.

SH and I attended SW Water zoom meeting there was a lot of blame on agriculture, they have to plan 25 years in advance and update every 5 years in terms of that a new reservoir to be built at Cheddar this will help to circulate the water differently. I asked about the spreading of human waste, they explained they get it treated but other companies may not and this is a concern.

It has just come to mine and Steve's attention about permitted development changes in agriculture. There are no site notices Parish Councils and District Cllrs do not need to be notified and decisions need to be within 28 days, applications are either permitted development or class Q they can't do both. I have asked for planning to inform us. It is a real concern that we do not know about these.

14.Emergency Plan

We are having another meeting in April.

Whilst at the Resilience meeting yesterday. I spoke to a company who provide two-way radios. There were quite a selection and a variety of costs. The type suggested, if we needed one would be a Motorola costing £200. This was the second cheapest. I'm not sure we really need it and obviously we would need two. I can see the necessity if you're in a flood area, but we are not.

Grants are still available though. £250 for a start-up which means it would go towards leaflets, stationary etc. Up to £1,500 for plans in place for equipment.

Because our website does not comply with assertion 10, we have provisionally booked MOT with Vision ICT but this will cost £145 – this was discussed and Cllrs decided that this should be cancelled as we will be changing the website to something that is compliant.

The Hall hire charges were reviewed and following significant increases in costs it was agreed to keep existing prices throughout the year.

Arrangements are to be made for resealing/varnishing the hall floor – this will include the stage area which hasn’t previously been done. This may mean closing the hall for a few days to allow surfaces to dry and for new badminton/pickleball lines to be laid.

It had previously been agreed that the Hall would be prepared to store a generator in the boiler room – to be regularly serviced/checked over.
